A despatch from Paris to the Ex change Telegraph Company says its cor-respondent there learns, on the best authority, that in July last a provisional agreement was arrived at between Russia and China in regard to the future action of Russia in the Pamirs. It is added that the two countries agreed that the forces of neither power should pass the Sarrikul range.

This agreement, it is said, re-estab Habes friendly relations between Russia and Cnina, and has an important bearing upon the final fortunes of China in the present struggle.

Russia, however, it is added, is no likely to maintain a friendly attitude to-wards China without substantial returns.

Before he got to his room on the second floor he sinelled smoke, and went downstairs to investigate. The lower hall in the rear was filled with smoke, so the tenant sent out an alarm.

The flames were found to be burning in the rear cellar. A lot of boxes were piled up and were burning, and the woodwork of one of the coal bins had been caught. The flames were extinguished before any damage was done.

The people in the house were badly frightened and rushed out into the street, dragging their household goods after them.

The the chief said that the fire had evidently been started by some tramp, and when the coal bin had commenced to burn he had run away.

that has been begun against him in the City Court by C. F. William Relss, of 28 West Sixty-second street, to recover $2,000 damages for personal injuries as a result of an assault made upon him by the defendant.

The plaintiff alleges that on Sept. 4. 1894, he, in company with his wife, went into the restaurant at Sixty-seventh street and Western Boulevard, and that the defendant accused the plaintiff of having beaten his wife.

Mrs. Reiss indignantly denied the statement. Toner, it is alleged, started towards Mrs. Reiss, as if to assault her, and Mr. Reiss stepped between them.

NO CHANGE IN THE STRIKES.

That of the Shirtmakers May Be

Prolonged Another Week. The striking shirtmakers are still con fident of ultimate success, but reports from both sides indicate that the strike from both sides indicate that the strike will be prolonged a week or more. The Executive Committee of the union told a reporter for "The Evening World" to-day that they would not make any compromise with the contractors; that the latter were able to pay the new scale of prices, just as contractors have done in other trades, and that if the operatives here maintained their demand for the new prices, corresponding rates for work would be obtained by the shirt-makers in other cities, for the reason nakers in other cities, for the reason that New York prices governed the trade that New York prices governed the trade eisewhere.

The strikes of the cloakmakers and cutters against Julius Stein & Co., 515 Broadway, and Beiler & Co., 65 Greene street, continue with but little change.

Mr. Stein said he was filling the places of the strikers. He told one of the latter that he would not pay the wages due the men and women who went out until the strike was over
